Phoenix Senior Honor Society Taps Seven Versatile Members

Seven seniors who rank in the upper seven per cent of their class scholastically have been elected to Phoenix. They are to be recognized on the Honors Day program. Those girls elected are Ann Bowen, Mary Jim Combs, Mary Hall, Helen Harrell, Carolyn Martin, Sarah Ann Staples, and June Williams.

These girls are not only grade conscious but have participated in other college activities. Ann, who is a science major from Chester, has been a member of the Madrigal Singers, Phi Sigma, IRC, the Chemistry Club, Chairman of the Honor Council, and was editor of the "Spectrum" this year.

Mary Jim Combs, a transfer student from Carrollton, was a member of the Home Economics Club.

Mary Hall, a biology major from Cairo, was business manager of the "Spectrum" and a member of the Chemistry Club and IRC.

Helen Harrell, an English and math major from Edison was a member of the Literary Guild, the

A Cappella Choir, BSU council, and was president of IRC this year.

Carolyn Martin, a business major, from Flemington, was a member of IRC and Beta Alpha Club. Carolyn was elected to Phoenix last year, as she had a sufficient number of points to qualify for this club.

Sarah Anne Staples from Cuthbert, a Science major, was in Phi Sigma, IRC, on the "Colonnade" staff, in a Golden Slipper play committee, President of the Chemistry Club, a feature editor of the "Spectrum" and chairman of the Honor Board.

June Williams, an elementary education major from Rome, was in the elementary education club, IRC, and headed a Golden Slipper Committee.

Dr. Sarah N. Nelson, head of the math department, is the faculty chairman of Phoenix.

Distinguished Service Award Presented to Robert W. Woodruff

By Dixie Dixon

The 1955 Distinguished Service Award of the Georgia State College for Women will be presented by Dr. Henry King Stanford, president, to Robert W. Woodruff, finance committee chairman of the Coca-Cola Company's board of directors.

The 1955 Distinguished Service Award of the Georgia State College for Women will be presented by Dr. Henry King Stanford, president, to Robert W. Woodruff, finance committee chairman of the Coca-Cola Company's board of directors.

A faculty committee selects as recipients for the award, men who have made outstanding contributions to the state of Georgia.

Starting out with determination and willingness to work, this former foundry apprentice and automobile salesman rose to the presidency of the world known Coca-Cola Company. His philosophy is built upon three cardinal principles: integrity in business, quality of product, and responsibility in advertising.

Much of his valuable energy has been devoted to promoting scientific research, with particular emphasis on diseases peculiar to the south — hookworm, pellagra, and malaria.

The development of Emory University as an outstanding medical center is accredited to the efforts and gifts by Mr. Woodruff and members of his family who have helped establish the School of Medicine, the Robert Winship Memorial Clinic, the School of Dentistry, the Grady Eye Clinic and others.

Mr. Woodruff is also a trustee of the Berry Schools, Tuskegee Institute, National Safety Council, National Fund for Medical Education, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc., and the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation.

Atlanta Banker To Receive GSCW Alumnae Award

Carol Kay Fuller

Mrs. Helen Pace Thompson of Atlanta will be honored by the Alumnae this year at GSCW's Honors Day.

Mrs. Thompson was born and attended school in Smyrna, Georgia. Upon graduation from high school there, she entered Georgia State College for Women. She graduated in 1921, after majoring in Domestic Arts. In 1923, Helen Pace became Mrs. John Schley Thompson.

She first entered banking in Jasper, Florida. Then she and her husband moved to Atlanta, and in 1925 they were co-founders of the Peachtree Road Commercial Bank in Buckhead. Later, this bank became the first branch established by the Fulton National Bank. Mr. Thompson was selected to be the manager of this bank, while Mrs. Thompson served as Assistant Manager.

In 1945, Mrs. Thompson was elected Assistant Cashier of the Fulton National Bank, and with this title came the honor of being the first woman to hold an official title in this organization. In just three years, Mrs. Thompson was promoted to Assistant Vice-President. She was promoted again in 1951, this time to the position of Vice-President. Mrs. Thompson is the first woman to hold such a position in this area, and it is believed by many that she is the first in the Southeast.

Although her job keeps her busy, Mrs. Thompson has not been idle in other affairs. She is an active member of many clubs and organizations, and in many of them, she has held responsible and time-consuming positions. A few of the offices that she has held are: Past National Treasurer of the Association of Bank Women, President of the GSCW Atlanta Alumnae Group for two years, and Vice-President of the 5th District State GSCW Alumnae for several years.

Miss Helen P. Thompson
Alumnae Award Winner

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson now reside at their home at 3097 Shadowlawn Avenue in Atlanta. They have one daughter, Helen Pace Thompson, Jr., who is now Mrs. John N. Arnold, also of Atlanta.

Life Membership In AAUW Awarded To Louise Powell

Louise Powell, a Spanish and English major from Shannon, has been granted a lifetime membership in the American Association of University Women. Each year the senior class nominates three of its members for the award, and then the faculty selects one of these. This year only four other senior girls in Georgia were awarded this membership.

While at GSCW, Louise has participated in many campus activities. She has been active in CGA, REC, "Y", Golden Slipper, the Spanish Club, the Literary Guild, and the Foreign Student Forum. Next year she plans to teach Spanish and English.

STRING LESSONS FOR GSCW STUDENTS

String lessons are now being taught in the Music Building. Any one wishing to take lessons, please, see Mr. Arnot.

and others.

Mr. Woodruff is also a trustee of the Berry Schools, Tuskegee Institute, National Safety Council, National Fund for Medical Education, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc., and the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation.

WELCOME TO PARENTS

It is always a pleasure to welcome parents and other guests to our friendly campus. There is so much of real quality in students, faculty, ideals, and facilities of the Georgia State College for Women that I always proud of the opportunity to introduce our college to visitors.

The program for the day, which will reflect the usual careful planning of our college committee, is designed to acquaint our guests with many features of campus activity. I know you will enjoy these glimpses into life at GSCW.

I am looking forward to the informal reception of the Mansion where Mrs. Stanford and I should like to meet you and tell you how glad we are to have you here. You will always find a cordial welcome whenever you can come back to see us.

THE EDITOR SPEAKS

THE OPEN DOOR

By LISA HARDIE

The Open Door to voting citizenship awaits any person who so desires to take this step.

The best method of preparing one's self for this role is by participation in college government functions, thus observing the pros and cons of an issue. The formation of an opinion is the next vital step which can only be concluded by the actual casting of the vote.

The freshman class is to be commended for the splendid number of participants who attended the last CGA meeting. But where were the sophomores, juniors, and seniors? Certainly all groups should obtain a background to form an opinion.

HARDIE The discussion of the rules should be as important to one group as to another, for all laws should be made by all groups with clear, understanding minds.

THE NEW QUARTER

By RUTH DIXON

When a new quarter starts and the students return to campus there is much talk of new schedules, clothes and boy friends. Listening to such discussions one could learn much. For example, when reading the names of girls who made the coveted spot known as Dean's List, you will probably be tempted to contribute information about your friend who has told you she made three B+'s—then someone will add that the same thing happened to her. If a professor had "given" her an A—instead of a B+, she could have made it, too.

Let's go back to the part about the students who make that steady B average. With the Dean's List, like everything else, there must be a line of division. On our campus recognition is given students who make a minimum of 35 quality points. Like income tax, a line has to be drawn. The man who makes $599,000 does not have to pay tax, but the man who makes $600.00 does. Just $1.00 more, but it's over the limit. In some ways of thinking, nothing could be closer than a B+ to an A—and maybe that is a defendable line of thought. Like the dollar's difference, it must stand as our line of division.

Now, these are the facts. Far be it from this writer to give out suggestions for changes. However, I would like to stop after I have revealed the facts. The decision is yours. Maybe you will decide to work harder or maybe you will feel better after you realize that the list of those who almost made the Dean's List is far longer than the actual list itself. Whatever you decide will show and determine which list you will be on the next report. Many of us don't even tap our potential resource, much less tax it. So, let's see what the future holds.

CGA Discusses Rule Changes At Annual Spring Retreat at Lodge

The College Government Association held its annual Spring Retreat at Lake Laurel on March 25 and 26. The retreat was under the direction of Jo Strickland, incoming President of CGA. Its purpose was to make plans for the coming year. The meeting was highlighted by a report of tentative plans by each officer and discussion of rule changes.

The freshman class is to be commended for the excellent number of participants who attended the last CGA meeting. But where were the sophomores, juniors, and seniors? Certainly all groups should obtain a background to form an opinion.

Evaluation Group Makes Reports On School Program

By Mary Bonzo

Girls hurrying to a meeting with the committee, faculty members rushing around the campus—these have led a number of people to wonder "what" has been going on. To settle all minds here is the complete story.

The Representatives for The National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education arrived on the GSCW campus Monday afternoon to look over the study program of general education and teacher education. The committee consisted of Chairman, Dr. Leo Jenkins, Eastern Carolina College; Maurice Ahrens, University of Florida; Dr. Carey V. Stabler, Teachers College, Florence, Alabama; and Dr. Olive Scarborough, State Department of Education of Georgia.

Monday night the committee met with the Chairman of Divisions and Departments to talk over the general education program of GSCW. The rest of their time here was spent talking with students, student groups, and faculty members. They reported to the faculty Wednesday, March 30, and gave them recommendations for improvement, complimented them on certain good points and told them the needed improvements. From their recommendations, GSCW will be considered for accreditation. This will mean that any graduate of here will be recognized in any of the 48 states.

The tentative plans presented by each of the officers also gave rise to interesting group discussion. Suggestions were given to the various officers on methods of improving and enlarging the functions of their offices. Plans for the school calendar and handbook were also discussed at this time.

The program of events also featured a series of thought-provoking devotions planned by Gloria Erwin, President of "Y."

Delicious food for the event was prepared by Jean Sparks, Sonya Redick, Susan Sproull and Peggy Morgan.

GSCW Clothing Class Presents '55 College Fashions for Spring

By Peggy Foster

A fashion revue, "Sidewalk Show of Jessie's Spring Fashions," was presented in assembly April 4 by Miss Rosaline Ivey's beginning clothing classes. A brief ten minute showing will also be given for Honors Day, April 7.

The stage will be set with a wrought iron table, umbrellas, and benches around which the girls will model. The clothes shown will range from active sports and from casuals to street wear.

The fashions are made of linen, dacron blends, and rayons in colors ranging through all of the colors of the rainbow. The designs

But the code is discussed with us, and we earnestly and eagerly ask questions so that we may gain a deeper insight into its meaning. When we grasp its underlying value, we formally accept the Honor Code. We pledge ourselves to complete fulfillment of our responsibility, for the preserving of honor is not a matter for just a few but a concern of each individual.

The tea is sponsored by Delta Kappa Gamma and American Association of University Women. The local members of these two organizations will serve.

Honors Day Luncheon To Be Picnic Style On Front Campus

Brown, Beland, Barrett Elected To Offices

In Sophomore Class

By Dot Richards
The Sophomore class met Wednesday, March 30, during assembly period to elect three new officers for the class. These new officers will serve for the rest of the year, filling vacancies left by students who did not return this quarter.

The office of treasurer was filled by Marie Brown, an elementary education major from Locust Grove. Another elementary education major, Mary Jane Beland of Atlanta, was elected secretary. Mildred Barrett, a physical education major from Cedartown was chosen to be the new representative to Honor Council.

While in Cuba, Miss Vicidomini was the guest of the Senoritas Aurora Alajo, Delia Garat, Lolita Betancourt and their families. First, on the itinerary was a visit to the School of the Immaculate Conception. Miss "Vici" took greetings from our country to theirs and afterwards the school children presented her with a corsage in the shape of Cuba. During the week-end, Miss "Vici" visited the Naval Academy at Mariel, swam at the Miramar Yacht Club and made a trip into the country where she talked to the peasants.

One of the most colorful events of the trip was watching the "Comparsa," a native dance, being performed on a large drive along the Port of Havana. The "Comparsa" is a traditional dance of celebration. It is completely produced by the people themselves who do the choreography, arrange the music and design the costumes.

Miss Vicidomini visited the Old Cathedral which is the oldest church in the Western Hemisphere. Going to the other extreme, she attended mass in St. Anthony of Padua which can be described only as extremely modern. Miss "Vici" found the modern architecture in Cuba "absolutely thrilling."

Spring Dance Plans Announced By Staff

Attention all Jessies! There's a big dance coming up April 23. Ray Eberle will furnish the music from 8:00 til 12:00. A breakfast will follow the dance. Tickets will cost $1.50 per person for students and their dates and $2.00 per person for town people. If you haven't already invited a date, you'd better decide between Joe or Charlie in a hurry.

So Precious Is Honor That Man Dwells By It

"Mine honour is my life; both grow in one . . ." proclaimed William Shakespeare. The Honor Council, a vital segment of our College Government Association, strives to instill this truth into every "Jessie."

Everyone is a member of College Government when she hits the steps of Terrell, the freshman dormitory. Soon afterwards, she begins to learn about the Honor Code. At first however, the code seems as if it is hardly more than a monstrosity of commands. But the code is discussed with us, and we earnestly and eagerly ask questions so that we may gain a deeper insight into its meaning. When we grasp its underlying value, we formally accept the Honor Code. We pledge ourselves to complete fulfillment of our responsibility, for the preserving of honor is not a matter for just a few but a concern of each individual.

The code has a special significance to each person. This individual annotation results from the various experiences each person encounters. The more one realizes the role of honor in everyday living, the more insight he has into that precious, indispensable, symbolic word of honor. And before we realize what has happened, our once-notorious conception of the Honor Code is abandoned, and a beautiful and sacred meaning has taken form in our life.

Have you ever heard the expression, "Practice what you preach"? Well, to make the Honor Code really live in our own life, we try to comply to that adage. For our Honor Code states that "we believe that character can be favorably modified through imitation of habit, by precept, and by example." For how true is the axiom of Publius Syrus: "What is left when honour is gone?"

GSCW Presents New Students On Campus For Spring Quarter

Many new personalities are found on the GSCW campus this quarter. Living with the freshmen in Terrell, is Roberta Jean (Bobbie) Jordan of Buckhead, who transferred from the Atlanta Division. She graduated from North Fulton High where she was a member of the band for eight years. She enjoys music and likes to dance. Her sister, Leanne, who attended GSCW, influenced her choice of college.

In Beeson, there is a new junior, Marjie Nadean Foy from Coolidge, who attended ABAC for two years. She graduated from Pavo High near Thomasville, and being a home economics major likes to try new recipes. Her philosophy of life is "Give to the world the best that you have and the best will come back to you."

Another new junior in Beeson is Mary Frances (Fran) Brantley of Wrightsville, who transferred from "Georgia." She is a math major and enjoys motion pictures and sewing. Fran is a member of the First Christian Church, and her philosophy is "Seek to be good; but aim to be great."

In Bell, there is a new sophomore, Bernice Elaine Strickland of Savannah who transferred from Armstrong College. Her major is dietetics. While at Armstrong, she was on the "Ink Well Staff"; the "Masquers," in the home economics club, on student government staff and debate team, in I.R.C., and was the intramural board manager and on the Permanent Dean's List. She is also a member of the Christian Church.

A new commuting Jessie is Mrs. E. T. Newsome who recently moved from Durham, N. C. Being a home economics major and caring for Randy and Pam keeps her busy. Her husband, who is the horticulturist at the State Hospital, also writes "How Does Your Garden Grow?" for the local papers.

Ann Matis of Naylor, after two years of teaching in high school, has come back to get her degree in Health and Physical Education.

PUBLIC RELATIONS STAFF RELEASES STUDENT DATA

The Public Relations Department of the Georgia State College for Women has just released a story on every student at GSCW to her home town newspaper. This was also done Fall and Winter Quarters.

This department tries to get the picture of every Sophomore, Junior and Senior in the Sunday Atlanta Journal-Constitution Paper, at least once each quarter.

Miss Scott Shows the Three Bulldogs Her Moss-Green Bed of Ivy

Mrs. Enlow Reports
Jessies Maintaining Good Health Record

Take notice Jessies! There has been unusually good health on our campus since we returned to school the first of January.

According to Mrs. Enlow, the head of our infirmary, we have had no really serious illnesses since our return from Christmas holidays. The most patients in the infirmary in a day were twelve and some days there were no patients at all. The average number of patients per day has been four.

The illnesses include colds and other viruses, measles, tooth extractions, and an occasional accident. There have been no cases of students playing possum to get out of classes. This proves we Jessies are really enjoying our classes this year.

Colds still seem to be among the illnesses. Let's all remember if we get plenty of rest and nourishment we will help cut down on the number of colds. Many of us wait until our colds are two or three days old before we go to the infirmary for a cure. Let's not do this anymore. Instead, go to the infirmary when a cold first appears, and we will save ourselves and the nurses a lot of worry.

We are doing good work, Jessies. Let's keep it up.

Miss Scott, English Professor Is Author of Honors Day Pageant

By Ruth Jenkins

Boston Bulldogs, great love for books, especially biographies, and an interest for flowers are just a few of the distinguishing factors, which characterize Miss Katherine Scott, our faculty profile, who has written the pageant for Parents' Day.

Miss Scott was born in Milledgeville, Georgia, on November 26, 1894, the oldest of two children. She received her Bachelor's Degree in Psychology and her Master's in English from Columbia Teachers' School.

The illnesses include colds and other viruses, measles, tooth extractions, and an occasional accident. There have been no cases of students playing possum to get out of classes. This proves we Jessies are really enjoying our classes this year.

Colds still seem to be among the illnesses. Let's all remember if we get plenty of rest and nourishment we will help cut down on the number of colds. Fashion's Fads

By ANGIE AMIS

In spite of the breezy weather we have had these first few days of Spring, our fashion thoughts are with the warm weather clothes.

Before long we will be taking inventory of our last summer's play clothes in preparation for trips to the lake, picnics, tennis, and those other sports that are so typical of summer. A few well-chosen and versatile summer tops added to our wardrobes can create new and fashionable outfits for the coming warm days.

The trend in play clothes, especially, is toward separates. Various types of shirts, shorts, and tucker pants can be mixed and mingled to become limitless outfitts. The Bermuda shorts of last fall are back for summer without the long socks, and are just right for that Saturday night beach party.

This year we will see more of the "boat-neck" shirts and laced-up peddler-pushers, carryovers from last year that seem to be here to stay. And the middy-blouses are not only for our seafaring maties, we land-lubbers are doing them, too!

Brilliant colors in solids, stripes and prints seem to be outstanding now, and show off a good tan as well as giving that bright and gay appearance.

Don't feel that you have to stay dressed in starchy street clothes on those hot summer days, just because you can't hit a tennis ball or swim a stroke! For comfort as well as style you can't be a well-dressed spectator.

But, of course, there is a time and place for play clothes, and it's up to your own judgement to distinguish these appropriate times.

Alf Makes Debut; Appeals To Alumnae

Carol Kay Fuller

ALF's last appeal is in the mail, and it is hoped that a good response will be made. So far, there is $4,628.75 in the fund; it has all come from a total of 994 contributors. There have been few days that the mail has not brought in at least one response to the appeal.

Did you know that ALF has already made his TV debut? Just in case you didn't already know it, Helen Barnhill and Hannah Ray created ALF from popie-mache, and he is really adorable. His debut was on Don Elliott's "Today in Georgia." Mr. Elliott introduced ALF to his audience when he spoke of the GEA convention and the tea in Atlanta. ALF spent a busy weekend there, as he was also present at the tea in the Skyroom at the Dingler-Plaza Hotel which was given in honor of the Education Faculty by the Alumnae Association on March 18. This party was a huge success in spite of inclement weather. There were many of the Alumnae from all over the state and a good representation from all the classes. Most of the classes from 1894 through last year's class were represented.

At present it is divided up into three apartments:

One of her main interests is her Boston Bulldogs which she has had for thirty-two years. At present she has three dogs: Belinda, Bitsy, and Mr. Big. Occasionally, they come to class with her.

She also collects fans of all kinds from various countries.

Some are French, Chinese, Japanese, Indian, Cuban, and she has one from Java and Arabia. She has one that belonged to one of Queen Victoria's lady's in-waiting.

China Teacups form another of her interesting collections and may be seen in display at her home.

home for fifty-three years. It is a very interesting house, being laid with a piece of every kind of wood growing in Georgia. One room is lined with secret closets and another is eight-sided and sixteen feet high. The house was built in 1838 around a court house and has just been added to ever since. At present it is divided up into three apartments.

The Alumnae Office is still trying to complete its files on the old graduates. Miss Bethel sends her thanks to those of you who have come into her office with all the information that you have, and would appreciate it if more of you could help her. So, if your mother, grandmother, aunt, or any one else that you know are GSCW graduates, please, drop by the office and let her know.

The new officers of PENQUIN are: Sara Rice, President; Mildred Barrett, Vice President; May Jane Scott (Scotty), Secretary; and Nancy Short, Publicity Manager. This year, so far, PENQUIN has presented a number of programs which were thought to be very successful. A demonstration was given Orientation Week in preparation of the Sportsman Cup each quarter. For Winter Quarter Marty Camp was the recipient of this award.

Mr. Arnot Explains A Passage to the Wind Assembly of the Band

GSCW-GMC Final Band Concert Planned For May 11 in Auditorium

The date for the band's third and final home concert has been tentatively set for May 11. The band, made up of GSCW and GMC students, rehearses every Monday and Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 7:45 under the direction of Mr. George Arnot.

Mr. Arnot, a very capable graduate of Florida State University which has one of the finest music departments in the South, organized the band during the Fall Quarter of this school year. This is the first band of its type the college has had and by the improvement seen in the first and second concerts, the band seems to be quite successful.

Besides playing home concerts each quarter, the band will go on tour this quarter to nearby colleges and schools to show the work being done in the way of instrumental progress.

In the instrumental field, besides the band, Mr. Arnot also gives private and class instrumental lessons, his newest project being class string lessons for beginning students his spring quarter.

The band, having approximately thirty students from GSCW and GMC, has in its repertoire a variety of compositions, ranging from

Modern Dance Shows The Aesthetic Value

By Angie Amis

If someone faced you with the question, "What is Modern Dance?" What would be your reply?

So often the conception of Modern or Interpretive Dance is wrong, and many times the members of the dance club are guilty of this same misconception. So much emphasis seems to lie on the mechanics of dance, the hard work, the performances, that we fail to recognize the true value in its creativity.

It is difficult to express in words an experience, a feeling, a sensation. Yet, these are the basic ingredients of our lives. Each person has an individual way of expression. Like painting, music, poetry, or sculpture — dance is an expressive art.

Jean Erdman, one of our most famous dancers, defined dance in this way: "Dance is a work of art of which rhythmic movement is the material and the human body the medium."

In our American colleges dance has come to play a leading role, and more emphasis is being placed on the aesthetic values and achievements of the youth of today.

Music Majors Pledge Sigma Alpha Iota Carol Taylor

The Sigma Alpha Iota music fraternity has seven new pledges: Jane Henderson, Shirley LeRoy, Myrtle Sanders, Carol Schultz, Mary Alice Summerlin, Carol Taylor, and Elizabeth Weldon. You may have seen these girls in the past few weeks wearing their pledge pins, seven gold Pipes of Pan. Last week, they passed a national examination for admission into the fraternity, and they will soon replace these pins with fraternity pins, the Pipes of Pan encircled by a band set with pearls. These pledges will be formally initiated on April 16. This initiation, followed by a banquet, is the big event of the year, for old and new members alike. Each old member, clad in a long white robe, has a part in the impressive ceremony of inducting the new members, also dressed in white.

Most people hearing of S.A.I. for the first time ask why it is called a fraternity rather than a sorority. The designation "fraternity" is correct for women's groups as well as men's, and S.A.I. has simple chosen this form for its organization.

Music majors in S.A.I. have many activities throughout the year. There is a muscale every month, and the pledges have special projects. Delegates attend the national convention, which meets every three years. The members of the Beta Rho chapter here are active in the work of Sigma Alpha Iota, which is to promote achievement in the field of music.

Everyone in the music department is proud of the "hifi" record player that has recently been acquired. There are two record players upstairs in the music building, and the new machine will be placed downstairs. We hope the girls in Bell Annex will not object to the addition of more music to that which issues from the music building all day and part of the night.

GSCW is being represented this week at the southern division of the Music Educators National Conference in New Orleans. Miss Goff, Mr. Richards, Ann Bell, Jane Elrod, Ann Hall, Saralyn Ivey, and Carol Schutz are attending.

Watch the bulletin boards for announcement of the rash of spring recitals that will soon break out. Make your plans early to attend some of these recitals; you may find that you enjoy them!

College Theatre Selects Coward's "Blithe Spirit"

College Theatre has selected "Blithe Spirit" by Noel Coward for its Spring production which is scheduled to be presented on May fifth and sixth in Russell Auditorium. The play, an improbable farce in three acts, is a subtle comedy dealing with the supernatural. It concerns a man who remarries only to have his deceased wife return from the dead.

The cast which has been chosen for the play includes Bruce Prosser, "Toddy" Reeves, Jeanne Williams, Peggy Sosebee, Sylvia McCluskey, Claudeette Sutton, and Mr. Joe Specht. According to June Bray, stage manager, the various crews will soon be organized to begin work.

After work on this production, several girls will be eligible for membership in Alpha Psi, national dramatic honor society. Plans are now being made for the formal initiation of these girls into Alpha Psi. This initiation will take place during the latter part of the quarter.

IRC Schedules Events For Spring Quarter

By Betty Jones

The president of the IRC, Helen Harrell, has announced the various activities of the club for the first part of spring quarter.

Miss Pattie M. Turner, Professor of French at GSCW, was guest speaker at the meeting of the club Tuesday night, March 22. The theme of her program was on her year of graduate work at Sorbonne, the University of Paris. She pointed out the ways Latin and English culture are both similar and different.

On Tuesday night, April 5, Jean Sparks, Tot Crooke, Barbara Holton and Peggy Spell are in charge of the program. They will report on recent books on the current and important problems of France.

The IRC plans to be represented at the South Eastern Meeting of the American Studies Association at Wesleyan College in Macon on Saturday, April 2. The chief event of the evening is the address by Dr. Henry Steele Commager, Professor of History at Columbia University.

"The Most Pressing Problems of the USA" is the theme for the chapel program which the club is to present on Monday April 11.

Physical Education Majors To Present Folkdance Program

The Physical Education Department will display its talents in a folk dance demonstration on front campus, Honors Day. These dances come from a variety of countries and they all have very interesting backgrounds.

"The Hatter," a very lively dance from Denmark, will be one of the dances performed. Most of the dances from the Scandinavian Countries are very picturesque, hardy, and festive. This is a complicated dance to perform and the skills needed are varied.

"Kavelis" is an occupational dance from Lithuania and means "The Little Smith." This is a partner dance and the Polka is used very extensively. Because it is cold in that part of the world the dances are vigorous, active and majestic. The patterns in this dance are also very difficult and take varied skill.

From Russia we have "Hopak". It is a true Russian dance in that it uses energy and a lot of it. This dance is characterized by quick hops, jumps, and stamps. A great many of the dances from Russia are demonstrative and show off the stunts of the people.

A good American Square Dance will also be on the program. "Swing Like Thunder" is a dance that is done strictly for fun. The dancers are fast and lively on their feet and really enjoy demonstrating.

The entire program should be very interesting. The dancers will all be members of the Physical Education Department and the performance will be a success.
